

MOKENA HOMECOMING AUG. 20-22

FOUR ORGANIZATIONS COMBINE TO HOLD VILLAGE OPEN HOUSE

Mokena's greatest homecoming will be underway Friday night and thousands of persons are expected to enjoy the fine entertainment, interesting exhibits, rides, games and fun for which their annual festival has become famous throughout the county and Chicagoland.

Old timers will remember the first homecoming held 10 years ago sponsored by the Mokena Civic Association, at the suggestion of the late editor of the News-Bulletin, Mr. William Semmler, and promoted so successfully under the leadership of the late Robert A. Bechstein, the first president of the organization, assisted so ably by Alfred Hatch and others.

In fact the affair was so successful that it has grown from a very modest beginning to one of the most colorful of its class. Former citizens of this community look forward to meeting turn year after year to participate in their old friends and other guests, re- the gayety and enjoy the hospitality for which Mokena is noted. This year the committees appointed by the four organizations sponsoring the homecoming, have completed their plans and hope that nothing has been overlooked that might add to the enjoyment of our old friends and the many new ones we expect to make.

There are many new features added this year. Appreciating the importance of municipal support, the village authorities are fully cooperating with the preparation for the affair.

Tomorrow night Friday, August 20, at 7:30 o'clock is the opening. From then on till closing, there will be happy activities. No one will want to miss hearing the prize-winning Rural chorus sing on Friday evening. They have attained admiration and success where ever they have sung, and just this last week they appeared at the state fair at Springfield.

Saturday night will be another big festive affair starting at 7:30. We would like to add another contest, starting at the first moment of the opening on Friday night and continuing until the close on Sunday night—who will say the most times: "Hello Neighbor" and "Welcome to Mokena." Be your own judge and award yourself the prize of having aided in making people happy and showing that Mokena is a friendly village and really one will enjoy themselves while here. The hand of welcome is extended in a joyful manner. Let's forget the ills of the world, and be happy and help make others happy.

We know Mrs. George Hauser's advanced dancing students will please. They will appear Saturday and Sunday and Sunday evenings. Jimmy Hart of Joliet will be master of ceremonies each evening and also Sunday afternoon.

The water fight Sunday afternoon is being looked forward to with much thrilling anticipation as is also the crowning of the queen, following the water fight. Who will be the lucky girl to be chosen to receive the beautiful $125 Lady Elyin wrist watch.

Also working very diligently are Civic Association president, Theron Lackey and Secretary Stanley Williams.

NEW DEPOT TO BE BUILT IN MOKENA

It looks as though we are at last going to get a nice new Rock Island depot. According to Whitney Carter, agent for the Rock Island at Mokena, bids for the new station at Mokena are to be awarded to the successful bidder on or about August 25th, by the general engineer in the Chicago office of the railroad.

The plans call for the station to be erected on the south side of the tracks, to be built of brick and to be modern in every way.

Frankfort Citizens Disgusted by Action Of County Officers

The Village of Frankfort last week got prominently into the limelight, and as a result the proprietor and operator of the so-called zoo on route 30 at Harlem avenue, Paul Miller, 50, of Houston, Texas was fined $100 and cost by Justice of Peace John P. Egan in Joliet on a gambling charge.

It all came about when a tourist from the state of Indiana, named Ellis Horton, complained to the Will County authorities that he was "beat out of $70" at the zoo last Friday night in a dice and number game. Miller was required to refund the $70 to Mr. Horton.

Citizens of Frankfort, being provoked about the "zoo" in their township, sent a telegram signed, to Sheriff John Kirinich at Joliet requesting the authorities to take action against the alleged gambling place. It is said that Sheriff Kirinich visited the place after receiving the telegram, and reported not finding any evidence of gambling. At that time he also said that if anyone had proof of gambling they should come in and sign a warrant and that an arrest would be made.

As the telegram was signed "Frankfort Vigilantes," the Will County authorities requested to be informed of the personnel of this vigilante group. In another column and page of this issue is found a letter to the paper, their answer to this request.

Supervisor William Kampe of Frankfort township said he had made complaints to the state's attorney's office about the signs that were posted along the highway by the zoo operators in violation of the zoning ordinance of the county. No action was taken by the county authorities regarding this complaint.

Home Bureau Picnic

The Frankfort-Mokena Home Bureau members and their families enjoyed their annual picnic at Nowell Park in Joliet Sunday. Arrangements, including games for adults and children were directed by Mesdames Elmer Bornet, Robert Nieman and Lawrence Kohl.

Robert G. Regan, 52, Dies in Silver Cross Hospital Monday

Robert C. Regan, who has resided on a farm estate west of Mokena, in New Lenox township for the past eight years, passed away in Silver Cross hospital Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Mr. Regan, who was 52, had been under a physician's care for several months because of a heart condition. He was a great airplane enthusiast, owned his own plane and had a runway on his estate. He recently enjoyed a vacation by flying. He was rushed to the hospital Monday following a severe heart attack, and passed away about four hours after arriving at the hospital.

Mr. Regan purchased the old Bush farm west of Mokena and built a ranch house on it, moving his family to their new home eight years ago. Because of the Indian history connected with that section of the land, he called his estate the Ojibwa farm.

He was born in Chippewa Falls, Wis., the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Regan. There he was educated and when World War I began he joined the army at Connecticut and went overseas with the 26th division and remained there for four years.

With his return to civilian life he started in the building contracting business, first in Wisconsin later moving to Chicago. At the time of his death he was engaged in the remodeling of the Joliet Federal Savings and Loan building and Coco Cola Bottling company plant on Plainfield road.

He was contractor for one of the additions to Silver Cross hospital, for the Munroe Hatchery, the Public Service garage and offices; the Atlas Wallpaper company at Coal City, the Public Service sub-station at Bradley; the Trac-O-Motive corporation building at Deerfield; the Kennedy Cochran corporation plant at Hillside.

Chicago buildings which he constructed included the Motorola corporation plant, the Tropic-Aire plant, the Petralager building. He also was in charge of the Chatham Housing project.

Surviving are his wife, the former Frances Lockwood, a daughter Patricia; three sisters, Mrs. Ruth Bunn of Springfield; Mrs. P. W. McKay of Evanston; Miss Mary Regan, New York City; three brothers, Frank B. Charles E. and John all of Chicago.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning in Chippewa Falls, Wis., and interment in that city.

THREE WINS FOR ORLAND FIREMEN

The Orland Community Firemen won their third water fight Sunday when they took part in the Steger Firemen's homecoming, held last Saturday and Sunday.

They participated in a water fight at Steger Saturday afternoon, and won, playing against Riverdale at that time. Sunday they played South Holland at Steger and won again, thus putting them for the third time this year in first place, carrying home another trophy.

Their record this year is winning the Association's trophy, which they must defend for the next two years, and if they win that each time, after the third year, it becomes their property.

Playing in the water fight Sunday were Firemen Joe Lebens, Mike Kohlman, Frank Franc and Paul Vos. The aim in a water fight is to push the large steel ball 24 inches in diameter, across a wire line extended between two poles 50 feet apart and 20 feet high, with a water stream. Sunday the water pressure was 90 pounds.

Next Sunday the Orland Firemen and their families will hold their annual get together picnic in the Andrews' park in Orland. This is a private affair for the family members. There will be races and games and a water fight for the youngsters. About 100 are expected.

Don't Forget Your Drivers License

Springfield, Ill., August 6—Three quarters of a million Illinois motorists have applied for renewal of their driver's licenses under the new system provided by the Illinois General Assembly in its 64th General Assembly, Secretary Barrett said today.

Under this change in the license law, driver's licenses of the 1945-48 series expire on the applicant's first birthday after May 1, 1948.

If birthdays of Illinois motorists are uniformly spaced over a twelve-month period, Secretary Barrett reasoned that a large number of motorists whose birthdays occur in the months of May, June, July and August have failed to apply for renewals.

The 750,000 applications received to date represent approximately 22 per cent of the total registration of 3,350,000 drivers under the 1945-48 series, about 11 per cent short of the number of applications that would have been due if the number of birthdays averages the same for each month in the year.

He urged all drivers with birthdays in the months of May through August to apply immediately for their own protection should they be involved in accidents or otherwise have cause to produce their driver's license identification cards. The Illinois Motor Vehicle Law, he pointed out, provides a maximum penalty of $300 for driving without a license.

Applications for renewals of driver's licenses are due thirty days prior to the expiration date. That means, Secretary Barrett said, that persons whose birthdays occur in September should submit their applications this month. He cautioned applicants to fill out the blanks carefully and completely and have them notarized.

DDT should be sprayed around garbage cans and collection points and should be painted on building screens at least once every 2 weeks.

Amateur Can Sew With Ease If She Selects Right Fabrics

By Ertta Haley

ALL of us cannot be expert seamstresses without some practice, and we must all take the first few steps in sewing carefully. Of course, there are lots of aids, and even an amateur can turn to professional, practically, in just a few lessons.

If you have sewed little or none at all, select only simple, straight line patterns without too much intricate detail. There is no sense in tackling a job too hard because it will only discourage you.

The choice of fabric is another important point for the beginner to bear in mind. The type of construction, rather than the kind of fiber, determines the easy handling of a fabric.

Spun rayons and cottons are good choices for the beginner. However, she does not have to feel the dresses will not look professional just because she is sewing on simply constructed fabrics. If the garment is well finished, it will look attractive, and no one need know it was her first project.

A fabric that feels firm and has very little lengthwise stretch will be easy to cut and sew. Check the fabric where the yardage was cut and see how it frays. If it has frayed much, don't pick it as a first project, because you'll get too tangled in thread.

Sheer fabrics are a problem to the inexperienced because they pull and slip easily. The stitching, too, must be well finished so that no raw edges show through the fabric. Fabrics such as these are best left to those who have sewed more because they handle the material deftly and quickly with nimble fingers.

Heavy fabrics are just a bit too bulky for the amateur to tackle. They worry too much about the difficulty of cutting and of sewing, so these, too, should be left to the more experienced.

Medium Weight Is Guide For Amateur Seamstress

Even though sheer and heavy fabrics are out of the question for the beginner, there is still a wide field of textiles available. Look for medium weight fabrics like gabardines, broadcloths, shantung (rayon), faille, flat crepe prints, novelty dress weight rayons, twill, et cetera. They are easy to cut and your fingers seem to work magic with them.

If you worry about the stitching, choose materials that will show little of the actual sewing. Of course, you can avoid such details as tucks and pleats, but if you find a material that hides stitching, little errors of technique will not show.

Fabrics such as faille, broadcloth and gabardine are easy to sew because they have a definite texture and they do not slip while cutting and sewing. Smooth fabrics with glossy surfaces, such as satin and taffeta, slip easily and are hard to guide while stitching.

Stitching Flaws Are Lost on Prints

All-over prints which are so wearable during the warmer weather are a good starting fabric for beginners because stitching flaws are inconspicuous. These prints usually do not have the down sides so that you have to use special care in cutting and fitting the pieces.

Large prints, stripes and plaids, and even checks have to be matched in cutting and should be avoided by the amateur.

Luxurious fabrics with nap such as velvet and some of the fancy woolens are to be avoided because this type of fabric slips and slides during cutting and sewing. In cutting fabrics with pile, you must be certain that a gored skirt is all cut the same way or it will look as though one part of the skirt had pile running up it while another portion may have pile running down it.

Smart Cotton

A dress that will keep you feeling cool and looking crisp is this cotton with a sophisticated embroidered bodice. Trifere plunges the neckline to the waist, adds an insert of mulberry cotton to avoid the too-bare look, concentrates skirt fullness in the rippling front.

Pile fabrics, too, are rather bulky, and this is another feature which makes them somewhat difficult for the amateur to handle.

Select Suitable Material For Different Articles

Broadcloth is a practical cloth and is wonderful for slips, blouses, dummies, children's playclothing and dollies.

If you want a simple suit or jumper, tailored dresses, skirts, pads or cushions for chairs, choose gabardine or twill.

Linen textured materials of rayon or cotton are excellent for simple sport dresses and useful household articles such as luncheon cloths, chair-back sets, guest towels, place mats, samplers and pot holders.

The novelty dress-weight rayons offer excellent serviceability when used for dirndl skirts, collar and cuff sets, plain and fancy aprons, beach clothes, placemats or pillows.

The flat crepe prints are suitable for wearing apparel such as simple summer dresses, blouses, bedjackets, handkerchiefs and lingerie cases as well as scarves.

Easy-to-sew rayon shantung has many uses as youngsters' sun suits, bedspreads, crib spreads, children's aprons and bibs, and slip covers for hand bags.

Rayon faille is a popular fabric right now and may be used for two-piece dresses as well as belts, cosmetic bags, knitting-needle cases and card table covers.

Look for Service Quality In Household Fabrics

In addition to the easy handling qualities, there are other features to check when selecting household materials.

Curtains, for example, have to have shrinkage resistance. The curtains in any household require frequent laundering, and, unless they are to be a total loss, they must launder easily and not shrink.

Draperies must be resistant to sun-fading because they are expected to last long and look well. Draperies also should be reasonably color-fast to washing and cleaning, as well as shrinkage.

Be Smart!

Boleros, ever the delight of the slender young figure, can achieve individuality. Witness this lovely design that makes the most of the cutaway front. This is repeated in the skirt pockets with parallel lines, the pockets being slightly pegged for the sake of today's emphasis at the hip line. Many a blouse can be worn, but if you have a pique one, it will go beautifully with the bolero.

More Nurses To Fill Urgent Need

Enrollment of new students in the eighty-seven approved nursing schools of Illinois is ahead of last year at this time, according to a survey just completed by the Illinois State Nurses' Association, with thirty to sixty days still ahead before opening dates. But even with the summer increase, more student nurses are needed to fill the nursing schools to capacity.

In commenting on the enrollment increase, Mary I. Bogardus, president of the association, says, "It is gratifying to all who have helped in the recruitment program to see this upward swing in enrollments in our nursing schools. We are confident the trend reflects the desire of young people to be identified with a growing profession with new opportunities, good pay and interesting work.

"There is a direct relation, we believe, between this increased enrollment and the improvement in nurses' working conditions, hours and salary. Hospitals in Illinois and other employers of nursing are meeting the new employment standards, in some cases even bettering the recommendations of the State Nurses' association as set down in their economic security program.

"Every branch of the nursing profession is calling for more nurses. More people are using hospitals for minor as well as major illness; public health programs have been expanded; millions of dollars have been pledged to medical research; new techniques have been developed that require the skilled nurse to administer; Veterans' hospitals are calling for more nurses; industrial clinics are increasing. These are some of the challenging career opportunities that await the student nurse on her graduation."

For the ambitious nurse who wants to get to the top of her profession many nursing schools are affiliated with colleges which grant a baccalaureate degree on completion of additional college credits after graduation from nursing school. The nurses' association has a list of these schools and also provides a list of schools accepting male students.

Each nursing school has its own opening date for the fall semester some time in August, September, or October. There is still time to enroll for fall classes, if application is made at once.

The Illinois State Nurses' Association, 8 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago 3 maintains counseling service the year round for those who want information on the nursing course. The association also provides free a directory of all the approved nursing schools of the state.

Lesson for August 22, 1948

THE NEIGHBORS didn't know what Tabitha's ideas were. She never went down in history as a great thinker. What church she attended, whether she ever took part in a prayer-meeting, what her spiritual life was like, the neighbors did not say. But they cried when she was dead. She was a good woman, they knew. When Simon Peter came that way they did not tell him about Tabitha's prayers or her peace of conscience. No doubt she had these. But what the neighbors brought in to show how good their friend had been, was—"coats and garments." All made by hand, her hands; made for her poorer neighbors, widows. In those days widows were not protected by life insurance, social security or annuity plans. They could not go out and earn big money in factories. To be a widow, as a rule, meant to be in need of help. Too many of them starved. So Tabitha spent her time making clothes for the widows of her city.

Full of Good Works

THE BIBLE says she was "full of good works." It does not say she was full of faith or full of love. Just full of good works. We can be pretty sure the faith and love, the religion, was there, but it was the good works that people noticed.

Religion in Tabitha's house was translated into the language of coats and skirts. Religion always has to be translated into something we can understand. Religion uses words, of course; books full of them. We cannot get along without them. They stand for something. But where the Christian religion is concerned, we cannot stop with words.

Would They Want You Back?

THERE MUST have been a number of deceased Christians in Joppa, but the only one who seems to have been worth a miracle to bring back to life was this woman, Tabitha, or Dorcas. Her life was over, yet it was a life worth living again.

How many people would be worth bringing back to life again? How many funerals would the neighbors want done in reverse? Not many, maybe, but if the neighbors voted at each funeral, as they did at Tabitha's, on the question, "Do we want this person back again?" they would usually vote for people like Tabitha, whose religion was all hand-sewn.

What Is Service?

SERVICE is a word much used in Christian circles. We even have the world around us using the word. Department stores, government agencies, radio manufacturers, filling stations, all offer service. The trouble is that much of this is something for which you have to pay. And much so-called service is simply mending something that was not done right in the first place. Tabitha's service was of a different kind. It was genuine doing for people who couldn't do much for themselves and who certainly could not do anything in return.

Even among Christians, when we think of service we set our sights sometimes too high. We think of Telemachus, who stopped the brutal sport of gladiators murdering one another on Roman holidays. We think of great missionaries or settlement workers, or Christian statesmen like Gladstone or Kuyper. All honor to such men and women; they inspire us all. Yet they discourage us, too. For these great Christians are "special" people; they had outstanding talent, some of them even genius. They had opportunities given only to a few, opportunities that do not come in every one's lifetime.

Religion in the Hands

WE SHOULD REMEMBER this Tabitha, or Dorcas. All she had was her hands and some pieces of cloth. Her only opportunity was a poor city filled with poor people. Her only talent was one most women have: Plain sewing.

Yet the Tabithas, the Dorcases, make the backbone of Christianity. They are the salt of the church, the salt of the earth. In your own town, in your own community, if the Christian religion is loved and respected, it is not because of the famous preachers; it is because of the humble doers, the people whose Christian religion goes to their hands.

Excerpts From the Past

The following news items and articles are taken from the scrap book which Mrs. Jennie Stettin had made and were clipped from the Joliet Daily News as written by William Semmler.

MOKENA TO HAVE ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Mokena, June 19, 1912—The much-talked of electric street lights are assured. The ten years' contract signed on May 29 by President Ona McGovern and Village Clerk William Semmler has been signed by Charles Monroe, vice president of the Public Service company, and by the assistant secretary, and was filed with the village clerk Tuesday.

The street lighting system will consist of thirty Tungsten street light clusters of two 40-candle power lamps each and four Tungsten light clusters of three 40-candle power lamps each and will burn every night from dusk until one o'clock in the morning. The three lamp clusters will be placed along Front street.

Water will be pumped into the village tank by electricity.

The Public Service company has ordered material and work on the line from New Lenox line on the Frankfort road to Mokena, will be started soon. The lights may be burning within 60 to 90 days. The Public Service company is also ready to furnish power and this may be an inducement to factories to locate here.

Something must have gotten off on the wrong foot as the following is noted in the Jan. 8, 1913 clipping:

Mokena Getting 'Chesty'

"Our neighbor, Mokena, is getting quite chesty over their new electric lights, in fact they feel so proud of them that so far they have kept them burning all of the time, day as well as night. Well, we know they have them now, so they might as well shut them off and save the juice."

We imagine this was in the Frankfort news column.

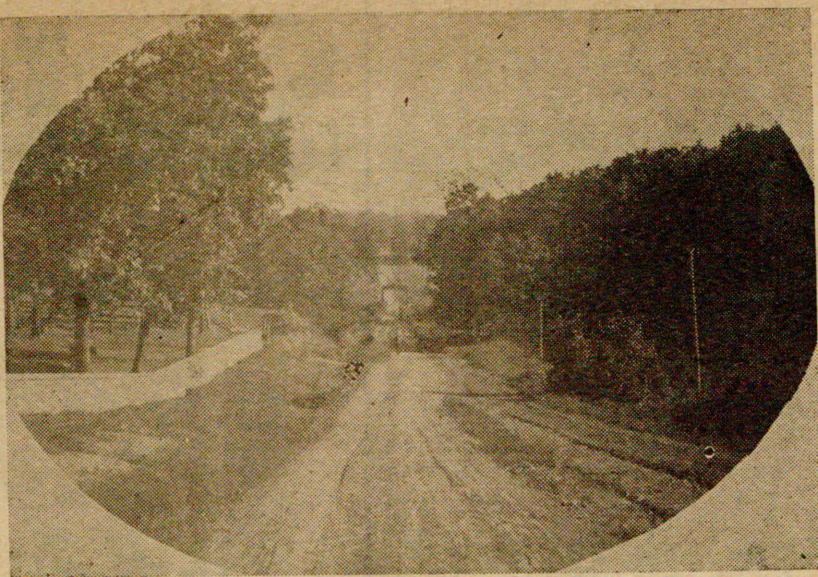

Another Mokena item bearing on the same situation stated that the Public Service was having trouble with the automatic clock which had failed to trip the switch, which was used to turn the lights off and on.

From the Joliet Daily News May 15, 1911:

MERCHANTS' DEMAND FOR BETTER ROADS

"The news that Joliet road material is being shipped with profit into Indiana has stirred the business men to demand a more aggressive road policy in this town. A year ago last spring the voters authorized a 30 cents per $100 road levy to be used in building a standard road from the village limits (Frankfort) to the Levy Doty residence west and south to the John Kohlhaugen farm and another stretch from Mokena east to the Frankfort road. The money has been nearly all collected and the balance of the $2,988 will be available in August."

"March 1, 1912—Highways around Mokena are to be improved this month.

The above is the hill on Wolf road past St. John's Cemetery. Isn't it grand to have it concreted?

A quarter of a mile of road west of Mokena, 3-4 mile west of Marti school house and 1/4 mile east of Henry Voss will be graded."

December 3, 1912:

Mokena to Have Hall and Garage

A long felt want in Mokena will be relieved in the building of a new public hall. George J. Hacker has purchased the lot of J. A. Martin for $900 and has taken E. P. Krapp, a local cattle dealer in partnership with him and will build a hall, 36x78 feet, one story high. There will be a stage 14x36 feet, underneath which will be a basement in which a kitchen and dining room will be located. In the summer the hall will be used as an auto garage being to sell and rent machines. An addition will be built to the hall proper for storing cars in the winter. The new structure will cost $4000 and it is also proposed to have moving picture shows in the new hall. J. G. Oswald and men have started work on the foundations."

Radio Fever Hits Mokena

"The radio fever has at last struck Mokena and has struck it hard, too, as has been shown the past week when several new outfits were installed. Alfred Hatch has just put in a set as also has A. C. Woods. Messages have been plainly heard from New York.

Montana, Kentucky and other far-away points. Band concerts, musical programs, sermons etc., have been plainly heard. Henry Stettin is figuring on putting in a set and others will undoubtedly follow soon."

Nitrogen starvation in corn can be easily detected by the light yellow-green color of the leaves.

Electricity is one essential item in the household budget that hasn't gone up in price

It's hard to believe, but it's true.

Our expenses—fuel, wages, and materials—have risen rapidly during the last two years. Coal alone has gone up 26%.

Although these expenses have been rising, increased output resulting in abnormally high use of equipment has served to offset somewhat the effect of these rising costs.

Electricity—one essential item in the household budget that hasn't gone up in price—provides more and more comfort and convenience to Northern Illinois homes every day.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Economic Highlights

The political battles will be bitter this year, with no quarter given. A Republican party which has been on the outside for 16 years is as unified as it has ever been in its history. Mr. Truman, despite the obvious aura of pessimism that pervades his party, seems honestly convinced that he can win, and is obviously determined to seize upon every opportunity that might put the opposition in an unfavorable light. Some analysts think that his stock has risen substantially since his Western tour, a fact which may also be of service to the Republicans, by cutting down the spirit of overconfidence which has made many feel that the election is in the bag.

From certain points of view, the Progressive Party convention was the most interesting—and certainly it was the most remarkable. It was apparently designed to combine the best features of a crusade and a carnival. When vice-presidential candidate Taylor and his family crooned before the microphones, something new in the way of precedents must have been established. And, while the Republican and Democratic platforms certainly went out on a long limb in an attempt to offer as much as possible to everyone, the Progressives put them in the shade. Their platform assures world peace, promises socialization of basic industry even as it endorses "progressive" capitalism, pledges the immediate elimination of any and all injustices to minority groups, and so forth. It was the longest and wordiest of the three platforms and by far the most inclusive. It was, however, pretty vague as to just how its objectives are to be reached, and at what cost to taxpayers.

It would be folly to deny the fact that Mr. Wallace has many sincere and impassioned supporters. Other people are amused, and still others are revolted. It is perfectly possible that the ticket will receive between 5,000,000 and 10,000,000 votes this fall. In any case, Mr. Wallace will make an aggressive and highly vocal campaign, and he will capture a great deal of newspaper space both here and abroad.

The problem is this: The Progressive Party is unquestionably backed to the hilt by the American communists and their fellow supporters. Correspondents after correspondent, including some of the least hysterical and most respected observers of world affairs, have said that Norman Thomas, the socialist leader who, incidentally, did an exceptionally interesting job in reporting all three conventions for a press service—has charged categorically that the Communists have obtained control of the party's policy committees, and Mr. Thomas can hardly be described as a reactionary who sees a red around every corner. However, Mr. Thomas is a classical socialist who believes fervently in civil liberties and democratic processes, and he hates the Communists and all their works. He, like Dorothy Thompson and others, thinks Mr. Wallace may do great harm to American prestige by his policy of appeasing Russia.

Mr. Wallace had a simple answer to the Berlin crisis—he would simply do what the Kremlin wants and withdraw from the city. He said nothing about what this might do to the morale of the small states which have aligned themselves with the West—and nothing about what might happen to legions of Germans who have cooperated with us in the administration of our interests in Germany.

Equally important, say those who fear the Progressives may undermine our present bipartisan foreign policy, is the fact that the party's platform did not say a single, solitary word in opposition to Soviet aggression. Even a mildly worded plank, which would have put a little of the blame for current world troubles on Russia, was defeated. By contrast, this country was blamed for practically everything that is going on. If the Progressives are to be believed, we are wild imperialists, while the Russians, it seems, are reasonable men whose only wish is a just peace.

This attitude, naturally, is being given a terrific play in the Russian press. Europe believe that neither the Republicans nor the Democrats represent true American feeling when it comes to foreign affairs, and that Mr. Wallace's stand has overwhelming public backing. President Truman and Governor Dewey are tarred with the same brush, and Mr. Wallace is always presented as a hero.

It remains to be seen how much capital the Russian leaders can make of that, and how much damage, if any, the Progressive Party will do to American standing. But it is a topic of very real importance today.

On the major party side, nothing new has been added. Mr. Truman's speech to the special session of Congress followed his past statements. It has long been obvious that price con-

HOT WEATHER THIRST QUENCHER

When the weather's hot, tall cooling beverages hold the spotlight and the appearance of a frosty pitcher, accompanied by crisp cookies, is a refreshing sight. Most satisfying thirst-quenchers are drinks which are not too sweet and the attractive cooler pictured above is ideal for bridge parties or when friends drop in to visit. The delicate, light flavor of the sauterne wine combines invitingly with either lemon or lime juice and the drinks may be prepared individually in tall glasses or mixed in a water pitcher.

COUNTRY CLUB COOLER
(Individual serving)
1 tablespoon sugar
Juice of 1/2 lemon or 1 lime
4 ounces Roma Sauterne
Sparkling water

In a tall glass combine sugar and lemon or lime juice. Add Roma sauterne and ice cubes. Stir well. Fill with chilled sparkling water or plain ice water and garnish with lemon or lime slice.

Public Service Co. Elec. Farm Exhibit

The electric farm show of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, which was a feature of last year's Will county fair, will play a return performance at the 1948 fair, August 31 and September 1 and 2, at Peotone with a completely new exhibit. It was announced today by H. W. Carnright, a district superintendent for the utility.

With "better methods" as the theme of the new exhibit, the display, especially produced for county fairs, shows how electricity saves dollars and labor for both the farmer and the farm wife.

Housed in a "big top" tent, 60x90 feet, the exhibit features actual electrical equipment, working models and blowup photographs demonstrating a model farm shop, adequate wiring for the home and other farm buildings, new ideas in feed handling, ventilating, heating and insulation of farm buildings, farm water systems and crop irrigation.

As the center of attraction for the farm wife, a modern, well-planned kitchen and a model laundry room are installed on a revolving stage. Home service consultants for the utility will be available to discuss cooking and laundry methods, home planning, and other household subjects.

In addition to the farm and home electrical exhibits, famous stars of radio station WLS and the National Barn Dance will perform several times daily under the utility's "big top." The shows, free to all visitors at the fair, will feature such favorites as Millie and Bobbie, Doc Hopkins, Flasho the Magician, Gene Colin, Billy Beckett, the WLS Rangers and Mary Jane.

The exhibit will be open daily during the three days of the fair and all persons attending the fair are invited to visit the electric farm show and see their favorite WLS stars perform in person.

The Emblem

By way of a memory refresher, or in case you did not know, the above is the emblem of the Mokena Civic Association, the originators of Mokena Homecomings.

At the first homecoming held October 21 and 22 in 1938, the Association offered first and second prizes for an emblem for its organization. This above won first prize and was drawn by a then Mokena resident and artist, Mrs. Anne Lauffer Demkov, now of Chicago.

The legend, according to the artist is, "According to be good and just." The laurel wreath is civic achievement and the small flower, violet, is the Illinois state flower.

Kingfish: Does you realize, Andy, dat millions o' people in dis country is got a very slim chance o' getting a place to live unless you is a veteran?

Andy: A veteran's different, huh?

Kingfish: Yeh, in dat case, yo' ain't got no chance at all.

Foreign Trees Spruce Us Up Says Expert

Trees are among the "foreigners" that have helped build a better America.

In fact, says C. L. May, vice president of the Davey Tree Expert Co., a high percentage of our most popular shade trees had their origin in distant lands.

These trees, he adds, have played an important role in making America more beautiful. Through our arboreal immigrants, we now enjoy a greater diversity of foliage and coloring. Some insects and diseases have been imported, too, but Mr. May declares the introduction of foreign trees has been and will continue to be a healthful development.

Today trees from the farthest corners of the world grace American home grounds. The most popular of these is the attractive Norway maple, one of the most widely useful of these beautiful immigrants. Next comes the Oriental planetree, native from India through Southern Europe. Sharing honors for third place on the alien tree popularity parade are the horsechestnut, European beech and European linden.

Among others transplanted from the Old World are such landscape favorites as the Scotch and Austrian pines, Siberian and Chinese elms, gingko, English elm and pyramidal English oak. It is interesting to note that neither apple nor peach nor citrus trees are native Americans.

Koster's blue spruce, developed in Holland from our native Colorado blue spruce, is now widely propagated here. Many popular shrubs, are of foreign "extraction."

Dr. K. J. Foreman New Author For Bible Speaks Col.

Beginning August 22, Dr. Kenneth J. Foreman will succeed Dr. Louis D. Newton as author of the Sunday school lesson feature, "The Bible Speaks."

Dr. Foreman is one of the most brilliant and popular religious writers in the country. He is particularly qualified to write for community newspapers because he has a small town background. Most of the preaching that he has done has been in small towns and at one time he was a school teacher in a small community.

"The Bible Speaks" as written by Dr. Foreman has the endorsement of the International Council of Religious Education. He will prepare "The Bible Speaks" from the same outline used weekly by Sunday school teachers in 90 per cent of the Protestant churches in the United States and Canada.

It Happened Here:—When the Illinois Tuberculosis association office was deluged with telegrams reporting Seal Sale totals in March, one of the Western Union boys, with terror in his voice, asked the girl signing for the latest bunch of messages—"Is this here TB a 'breakin' out agin'?"

WHAT'S NEW in FARMING...

• DeKalb, Ill. (Special)—One of farming's latest introductions to the Corn Belt, the use of liquid nitrogen fertilizer, is under test this summer on a few of the DeKalb Hybrid Seed corn company production fields. The fertilizer, anhydrous ammonia, which has been used with much success in the deep South, is on trial to determine its value in providing extra nitrogen for plant growth. The compressed liquid, which turns to gas when released, is forced into the ground under pressure through tubes and special nozzles attached to a cultivator. Top photo, shows the fertilizer shooting from outlet tubes as they are pulled from the ground.

Grasshopper May Injure Young Alfalfa Seedlings

"It is suggested that farmers with young alfalfa seedling take particular notice as to the number of grasshoppers that are in the fence rows and in the alfalfa fields. At this time, our observation, in a rather limited way, is that there are an unusual number of grasshoppers at this time which might do a great deal of damage to young alfalfa. We are advising that one pint of Chlordane per acre sprayed with water on these fields will check the hoppers. The older the hoppers get the more difficult it is to kill them and possibly more solution will be needed, also there may be some other crops such as asparagus, of which they are especially fond, that will be attacked by the grasshoppers, and similar procedure should be followed in these plantations," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

"We do not believe that grasshoppers are going to be in plague amounts but it is possible for losses to be sustained on farms where we have these small seed, particularly alfalfa and clover. They may chew a few leaves off of corn but apparently in this territory they are not in sufficient numbers to do a great deal of damage to corn."

It takes about 84 gallons of water to make one Lee Pre-Shaped hat.

Three Weeks Before Tax Penalty Goes Into Effect

County Treasurer, Louis E. Nelson, urges all tax payers to pay the 2nd installment of their tax bills now, during the lull season, in order that they may avoid the usual rush that takes place before the penalty day, September 1st, 1948, which is less than three weeks off.

After that date, a 1% penalty is added. He also wishes to inform the tax payers that the tax bills which have been appealed to the Board of Appeals by the tax payers, will be given ten days grace from the time they receive their letter from the Board of Appeals notifying them of "No Change" or ten days from receipt of a revised bill, notifying them of a change by the County Treasurer.

Either the new revised bill or the letter of "No Change" must be presented to the County Treasurer on payment so that the tax payer may receive the ten days grace on the penalty date.

MEMORIAM

HUTSON, MARY LOU—In loving memory of our dear sister and daughter who was called to rest two years ago August 23.

Sad and sudden was the call,
